 Mr. H. A. Snowden
 Superintendent
 U.S. Mint Phila. Pa.

Dear Sir:

Yours of 9th inst. requesting that I send to you any fragments of certain fiat salt nickel coins which you recently made an analysis provided I have any such fragments is received.

In answer I am happy to say that I have one half of each of the four nickel coins referred to, and I have this day sent them to you through Mr. Seaton of this Service now stationed in Philadelphia, I presume you will receive them from his hand almost as soon as this reaches you.

I am very anxious to learn all I can about your intended examination of these coins.

Very Respectfully

Dear Sir:

Yours of 9th inst. requesting that I send to you any fragments of certain five cent nickels from which you recently made an analysis provided I have any such fragments, is received.

In answer I am happy to say that I have one half of each of the four nickels you refer to, and I have this day sent them to you through Opr. Scanlon of this service now stationed in Philadelphia. I presume you will receive them from his hand almost as soon as this reaches you.

I am very curious to learn all I can about your intended examination of these coins.

Very Respectfully,
Andrew L. Drummond
